TESTIMONIALS

"I've used Boraxo powdered hand soap since "Death Valley Days" was on TV in the 1960's. This stuff always gets the grime off our family's hands better than any other product we've tried. My wife uses it after food preparation to remove food odors from her hands. It's a useful family soap and a familiar brand that we hope stays around for another generation."

"I am a car enthusiast and own five cars. My hands often get black with grease, oil and road grime while working on these cars. The Boraxo hand cleaner in the easy-to-use dispensers cleans my hands quickly without leaving my skin parched."
