Assembly Instructions for SPG-Series Gates

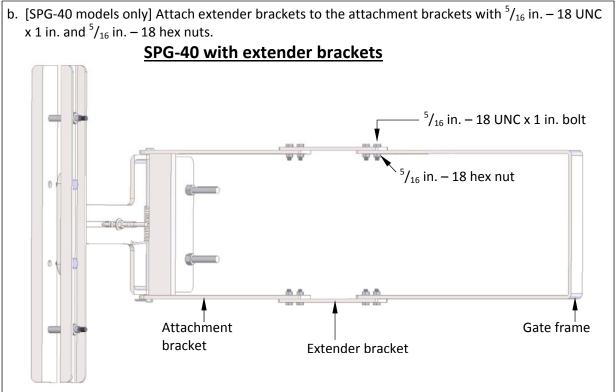

To assemble your SPG-series gate, follow the steps outlined below. Letters in parentheses () correspond to parts identified in the diagrams on p. 1.

- 1) Attach mounting brackets to the guardrail.
 - a. Position both of the mounting brackets (A) so that the bottom bolt hole is just above the midrail; then
 - b. Insert a $\frac{1}{2}$ in. -13 x 3in. shoulder bolt (B) through the top bolt hole in the brackets;
 - c. Insert another shoulder bolt through the bottom hole in the brackets {NOTE: The bolt will contact the top of the midrail]; and then
 - d. Secure each bolt with a $\frac{1}{2}$ in. -13 hex nut (C).
- 2) Fasten the gate subassembly to the mounting brackets as shown in FIG. 1.
 - a. Align the bolt holes in the gate subassembly (D) with the 2 middle holes in one of the mounting brackets (A).
 - b. Put a $\frac{1}{2}$ in. flat washer onto two $\frac{1}{2}$ in. -13 x $\frac{1}{4}$ in. bolts ; then
 - c. Insert the bolts through the mounting bracket and subassembly and secure them with $\frac{1}{2}$ in. flat washers and $\frac{1}{2}$ in. 13 hex nuts.
- 3) Fasten the gate subassembly (D) to the guardrail as shown in FIG. 2.
 - a. Put a $^{7}/_{16}$ in. USS flat washer on both ends of the $^{5}/_{16}$ in.-18 x 2in. U-bolt; then
 - b. Feed the ends of the U-bolt through the slot in the gate subassembly; and
 - c. Secure the ends of the U-bolt with $\frac{5}{16}$ in. flat washers, $\frac{5}{16}$ in. lock washers, and $\frac{5}{16}$ in.-18 hex nuts.
- 4) Attach the gate frame (E) to the gate attachment brackets (F).

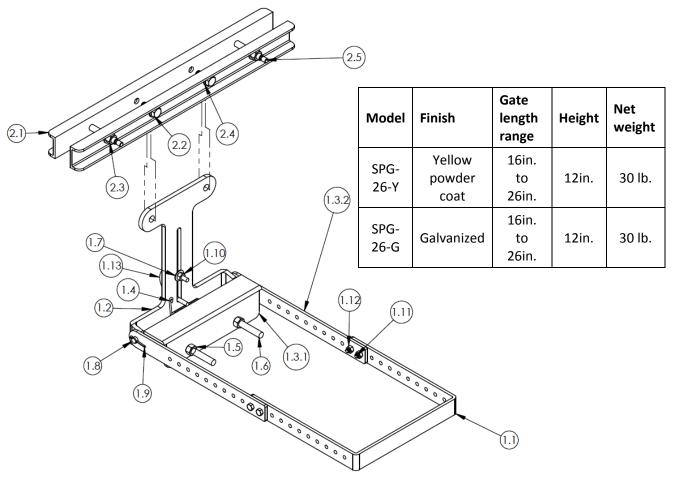

[NOTE: SPG-40 models include parts called extender brackets.]

a. Determine how long the gate needs to be. If you have an SPG-40 series gate, determine if extender brackets are needed. If brackets are not necessary, skip part b below.

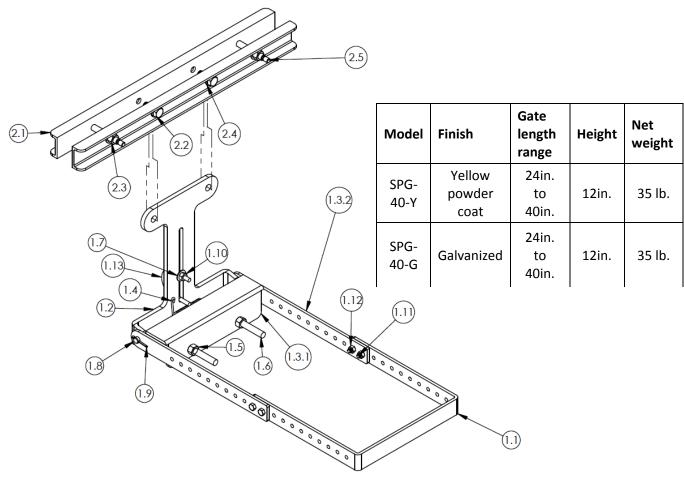

c. Fasten the gate frame to the length attachment brackets using $^5/_{16}$ in.-18 x 1in. bolts and $^5/_{16}$ in.-18 hex nuts. To properly stabilize the structure, insert the bolts through the bolt holes at the ends of the gate frame and through the bolt holes at the ends of the length attachment brackets.
