General Information and warranty:

If obvious wear on the vinyl is visible due to prolonged exposure to UV rays, weather or contaminants found on the road, remove the material immediately.

The information portrayed in this document does not constitute a guarantee or warranty of any sort; they are basic test results performed under our own conditions.

The installer must always examine the suitability of the film for each application.

The seller assumes no liability for claims beyond the replacement value of any product proven to be defective in material or workmanship and is in no way liable for direct, indirect, special, incidental damages or consequential loss including without limitation.

Lost profits or loss of use, whether based on contract or any other legal theory is not liable for any claims beyond the replacement value of the material in question.

Product specifications may change without prior notice. Please contact us for the most up-to-date information.

Any rips, tears, scratches and other marks left on a material that has been installed is due to improper working conditions and lack of knowledge for the film.

VViViD will replace or refund the original value of the material if tears, markings, deformations in the vinyl that are apparent to be damage during production and not damage during shipment. Outer layers are not subject to any compensation.

If a product is severely damaged (folded, bent, cut during inspection, torn, wet) it is the buyer's responsibility to file a claim with the shipping department. The transportation is a factor we have absolutely no control over once it leaves our location. Please carefully inspect the material upon receiving it.

Fading of colors may occur due to excessive wear, cleaning, exposure to elements, UV rays etc. We are not liable for any material that wears out after 3 months.

Any chromes being filed for warranty due to fading is not accepted. All of our colored chromes must be laminated with a protective film suitable for the conditions of their climate. We offer protective laminations. If you are to use another type of lamination, please contact the company for their warranty.

It is the responsibility of the user to contact their state or municipality for information concerning the change of color on their vehicle, the legality of the finish and any other legal inquiries.
